EDUCATIONAL PRESENTATIONS
Sheila Bailey – Community Survey Results
Sheila Quirk-Bailey explained that the College does one major piece of research each year (community, students and culture within Harper College); this year they focused on the community to find out how they feel about higher education, how they feel about Harper and what they feel are their needs. She introduced Dr. Laura Crane, head of Harper College’s Department of Research.

Dr. Crane explained that Melior Group in Philadelphia was hired to complete the community survey. She introduced Liz Cohen, Senior Project Director from Melior Group to share highlights of the study.

Highlights of Community Survey
Ms. Cohen explained that there will be two reports forthcoming, one from the community residents and one from the businesses, which will provide more detail.

Study Background
Harper does research every three years to explore community needs: identify professional, academic and personal interests; understand expectations of community colleges and Harper; determine awareness and impressions of Harper College; elicit reactions to new initiatives from Harper.

Methodology
They conducted a telephone survey in February and March 2007, using random digit dial sampling. In an effort to reach younger students, they also used age-targeted lists. During the phone survey, they did not identify Harper at first as being the sponsor of the research, but they did identify Harper at the end. A scale of 1 to 5 was used with 5 = agree strongly with the statement and 1 = disagree strongly with the statement. Ms. Cohen noted that many of the answers were 5’s and 4’s.

Community Snapshot
Findings:
• Higher education is extremely important to residents in Harper’s district.
• Education is the key for professional success.
• Residents view community colleges as playing a distinct role – to offer an intermediate step; to be accessible, and affordable.
• Harper is the “go to” institution of higher learning – 32 percent mentioned Harper unaided, exceeding Northwestern. When prompted, 96 percent knew Harper. Additionally, 33 percent of residents who have taken a class in the past five years, took it at Harper; and 43 percent of residents who will likely or possibly take a course within five years, plan to take it at Harper.
• Harper College’s mission is consistent with expectations.
• Harper is highly regarded by community residents.
• Respondents graded Harper with an A or B in the following areas: offering programs for people who want to complete a degree; offering enrichment classes; offering classes at convenient times.

Going Forward
There is extremely strong community support for Harper taking steps to offer Bachelor’s degrees in targeted areas with high workforce need -76 percent agreed strongly; three percent disagreed strongly. Respondents gave preferences regarding course delivery – location, time of day, days of week, length of courses, distance learning and Fast Track. Responses varied depending on age category. Other information gathered includes:
• A continuing challenge for Harper will be to let residents know all that it offers.
• The internet is “the source” for consumers who are exploring higher education, generally.
• Direct mail remains most powerful for communicating course offerings and athletic/cultural events at Harper.
Recommendations

Traditional Age Students: Harper should become the place to begin a college education; offer classes 16 weeks long and held during the week; develop accelerated and fast track course options, particularly for those ages 20-24.

Adult Students: Harper should continue effort to offer Bachelor’s degrees in key areas; expand distance learning; offer varied delivery options; expand Fast Track programs in business and computer science; develop Fast Track program in education; increase accelerated course offerings.

Communications: Harper should reinforce its mission; focus messages on key themes; evaluate web site for ease and accessibility; continue to use direct mail for courses/events.

Preliminary Business Survey Highlights
A survey was conducted with 50 area businesses within the Harper district that employ at least 100 people (slightly larger businesses). Findings include:

- District employers support higher education (84 percent have encouraged employees to take a class); 80 percent offer tuition reimbursement; 70 percent actively recruit employees from local colleges and universities.
- Employers want options in course delivery.
- Impressions of Harper are positive – 90 percent grade A or B for offering education that is affordable for their business; 86 percent grade A or B for offering classes at convenient times for working adults; 84 percent grade A or B for offering programs for people who want to complete a degree.
- 54 percent of employers cite trouble filling positions in technology, customer service, foreign language and engineering.

In response to Member Kelley, Dr. Crane explained that they wanted to include high school students in the survey, because they are considering college right now; they are potential Harper students.

In response to Member Canning, Ms. Cohen explained that, in the full report, they will see what the C’s and D’s are, and they will be able to see the areas that need improvement. She added that the C’s and D’s are a small percentage (85 percent of the respondents gave Harper A’s and B’s). People regard Harper positively. Dr. Crane explained that some of what will come out of the study are questions that will lead to a more focused study. Ms. Cohen clarified that earlier she had mentioned a theme of making education “easy;” she did not mean academically easy, but easy to access in terms of time and location.

Jim Ma - Energy Savings at Harper College

With regard to managing energy, Mr. Ma explained that they use two very simple principles – buy cheap and use less. Mr. Ma explained that it was no longer in Harper’s best interest to purchase power from ComEd, because Harper is a 5-megawatt user and, therefore, only allowed to purchase power through “hourly rates.” The price goes up and down hourly, based on market demand, which is very unpredictable. Mr. Ma called attention to several graphs, and explained that Total Cost of Electricity includes energy supply, energy delivery, facility rental, meter rental, transmission services and taxes. Harper’s price in 2004/05 was 6.59 cents per kw hour. During 2005/06, they were lucky enough to get on the ComEd PPO plan at 6.01 cents per kw hour (nobody could beat that price at the time). Last year, with all other large users, Harper College was not permitted to participate in the PPO program, so they went out for bid. The total cost became 7.72 cents per kw hour. He noted that if they went out for bid now, the current price would be approximately 9.5 cents per kw hour. They made a very good move last year by bidding electrical supply. They will enjoy their current price for another year and a half, with the contract expiring in December 2008.

Mr. Ma called attention to a graph which showed total energy cost between this year and last year, with the increase purely due to the electrical rate increase. Last year, the Total Cost of Electrical Power was $1.3 million; this year Total Cost is approximately $1.6 million (July to April). Last year, they used 21.7 million kw hours; this year they only used 20.6 million kw hours (due to various energy conservation measures). Their energy savings of approximately 1.1 million kw hours is huge – almost a five percent reduction.

Natural Gas

This year’s cost is much lower than last year, because Harper did everything right – they got out of the Illinois Gas Cooperative; they used Harper’s storage capacity to their advantage; and they bought cheap gas during the summer months when the price was low. They purchased some gas at 50 cents per therm and put it into storage for winter use. During the winter, the price is typically as high as 90 cents per therm. Natural gas usage is purely based on winter outdoor temperatures. They experienced a colder winter this year than last year and used 7,300 more therms than last year; however, their natural gas bill was $320,000 less.

Mr. Ma noted that he appreciates the confidence the Board and Administration have in him, which allows him to do all the right things. In addition to providing savings for Harper College, it has made the College a better world citizen. Because of Harper’s conscientious effort, ComEd burns less gas. Harper is contributing to a better environment now and for future generations.

Illinois Clean Energy Community Foundation Grant
Mr. Ma explained that last year, Harper received approval for a grant from the Illinois Clean Energy Community Foundation (ICECF) for approximately $83,000 to change the T-12 ballasts to T-8 ballasts and bulbs throughout campus. Overall, the project was a success.

- Work was done on 2,800 light fixtures, which included 3,000 ballasts and 6,000 bulbs.
- Total energy savings (148 kw) exceeded what was promised. Savings will be enjoyed year after year.
- The contractor used nine electricians with approximately 1,200 hours of work.
- Work was done between the hours of 11:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m. to minimize inconvenience to students, faculty and staff.
- Harper electricians did quality control and inspected the contractor’s work.
- Total cost of project - $140,000; ICECF grant amount - $83,322; Harper’s cost – approximately $56,000.

Mr. Ma asked Rich Costello, project manager for the job, to stand and be recognized. Mr. Ma thanked ICECF for helping Harper save energy. Ms. Lisa Starks from ICECF presented a grant in the amount of $83,322 to Harper College. She noted that this is the second grant awarded to the College for lighting upgrade projects. Grants totaling $8.8 million have been awarded to 104 Illinois colleges and universities. They will reduce electricity demands by almost 7,400 kw, which is enough to meet the needs of over 3,000 Illinois households. On behalf of the Foundation’s Trustees, Ms. Starks thanked everyone involved in the project. She thanked Harper for their commitment to the environment.
On behalf of the Board of Trustees, Chair Stone thanked Jim Ma and everyone who worked hard to make this project a success. This shows wise stewardship of taxpayer dollars.

STUDENT TRUSTEE REPORT

Student Member Borro thanked the Board of Trustees, administration and faculty who helped with and/or were present at the graduation ceremony. It was Harper’s very first off-site graduation at Willow Creek Auditorium. The facility was a very professional place to honor the 350 graduates who attended this year. Student Member Borro also thanked Chair Stone and Trustees Kelley and Hoffman for attending the Student Awards Banquet, which recognizes the outstanding contribution by students in all areas of the Student Activities Program. It means a lot to the students to have the Board present.

The Harper Speech and Debate Team finished fifth place overall at the National Community College Speech and Debate Tournament in Houston. Harper competed against 80 other community colleges. Coaches include Jeff Przybylo, Margaret Bilos and Josh Sunderbruch.

Phi Theta Kappa, International Honor Society of Two-Year Colleges, recently inducted 140 new students this semester at Harper College. That is an awesome accomplishment for students to maintain great grades.

Student Member Borro introduced Renee Zellner, Professor of Physical Education and coach of the Mens and Womens Track and Field teams. Eight of Coach Zellner’s Womens Teams have won regional titles in six events, more than 100 Harper athletes have qualified for nationals, and numerous athletes have earned the status of All-American.

Coach Zellner noted that the Womens Team took fourth place at Nationals. Freshman Charlotte Jauch set a national meet record in pole vault with a height of 10’4”. She introduced Erin Vukovich, double national champion for the second year in a row. She was second place All-American in hammer and third place in discus. Coach Zellner explained that, in spite of twisting her ankle on a practice throw in javelin, Ms. Vukovich still threw in the event and won the national meet in the javelin on her last throw and won the national championship in shot put. For the second year in a row, Erin Vukovich was voted Most Valuable Field Athlete at the meet. She also has a new school record in shot put and is an academic All-American.
Coach Zellner announced that, after 27 years, Harper finally brought back a national championship for the Mens Team. Vann Osei took first place in hammer and was second place All-American in shot put and discus. Harper College has dominated the throwing events at the national level for the last 10 years. She introduced Nick Herron, high jumper. On his last jump, Mr. Herron had the pressure of either making the jump for first place or taking fourth place. He made the jump and became the national champion in high jump. In addition, Harper Mens Team had 11 second place All-Americans and numerous other point contributors. Coach Zellner introduced Pat Grempka, who was on both relay teams. His team placed third in the 400 meter relay, and fourth in the 1600 meter relay. Both teams had personal records. Coach Zellner introduced Bill Buehring, a member of the third place 400 meter relay team. He also took fourth place in the 100 meter.

Coach Zellner thanked the Board of Trustees, Dr. Breuder, Vice President Joan Kindle and the Student Senate for their support of Harper’s athletic programs. They hope to continue the prestigious program, serving the community in years to come.

In closing, Student Member Borro noted he will be working with Michael Nejman throughout the year to develop his skills and learn how to best represent the students at Harper. It is a great honor to work with the Board. He looks forward to next month.

PRESIDENT’S REPORT

Vice President Dave McShane introduced Michael Babb, the new Enterprise Systems Director. Mr. Babb will be relieving Vice President McShane of the Project Management role of the ERP system. He comes to Harper with 20 years of experience in Information Technology. Mr. Babb noted that it is an honor to be selected for this position. He was a student at Harper in the past and feels this is an excellent institution. He is confident he will offer a significant contribution to Harper College.

Sheila Quirk-Bailey noted that this year’s draft of the Strategic Long-Range Plan (SLRP) is in front of each Board member. She asked that Board members get back to them within the next 10 days with any concerns or revisions. The SLRP will come before the Board for action in June.
Ms. Quirk-Bailey noted that there are two new weaknesses in the SWOT (Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats) analysis this year - one has to do with full-time faculty ratios and one has to do with alignment of developmental programs with traditional programs. Ms. Quirk-Bailey noted that the SWOT analysis may answer Member Canning’s earlier question regarding areas to improve.

Dr. Breuder noted that they are saying good-bye to Vickie Gukenberger. Vice President Margaret Skold explained that Dr. Gukenberger has done some wonderful curriculum development for Harper and has been very productive over the past four years. She has been given a chance to start the baccalaureate BSN completion program for Roosevelt University. Vice President Skold added that Roosevelt’s gain is Harper’s loss. Dr. Breuder noted that it is a great tribute to Vickie to travel across town to Roosevelt, where they recognize that Harper has a talented cadre of people. Dr. Breuder added that the good news is that Harper now has somebody over at Roosevelt to help build a great relationship. He wished Dr. Gukenberger well. He welcomed Michael Babb, and noted that they look forward to working with him.

CITIZEN COMMENTS

Rick Mason explained that he is an in-district taxpayer, former student and former employee of Harper College. He addressed the Board regarding two issues. He found it listed in the February Board meeting minutes that he “resigned” from his position at Harper College; he would like it known that he did not resign, but was “fired.” When he was asked to resign, he refused and was immediately served with a termination notice.

In regard to another issue, Mr. Mason stated that he sent an anonymous letter to Police Chief Michael Alsup last year concerning a member of the Harper College staff peeping into the women’s washrooms. He sent it anonymously, because he did not want to jeopardize his job. However, he felt he had to do something. Later, he discovered that the offender was simply told to remove the ladder. In his anonymous letter, Mr. Mason suggested that perhaps a camera should be put in place to catch the offender. He heard that the suggestion was dismissed as being too costly. Mr. Mason noted that he has been infuriated that this invasion of privacy has not been properly dealt with. To his knowledge, the offender is still employed at Harper College, and could still possibly be watching women. Mr. Mason stated that he did not come to the Board meeting to embarrass or hurt anyone. He feels Harper College mishandled the situation, and it still bothers him. He thought the Board should know about the incident. Chair Stone thanked Mr. Mason. She added that the Board will take that under advisement.

ANNOUNCEMENTS BY CHAIR
Communications Chair Stone thanked the Board for studying the very involved agenda and for asking pertinent questions ahead of time. Because answers were given prior to the meeting tonight, they were able to deal with the agenda in an organized fashion.

Calendar Dates Calendar dates are printed on the Agenda for Board information. Upcoming Regular Board meetings are Tuesday, June 26 and Tuesday, July 24. Chair Stone noted that the College campus will be closed on Monday, May 28 for Memorial Day Observance. She encouraged everyone to attend the Harper College Educational Foundation Golf Outing on Monday, June 4 at Boulder Ridge.

OTHER BUSINESS Member Kelley noted that last month, the Daily Herald had an editorial on the Civic Federation Metropolitan Mayor’s Caucus Study on Financial Accountability for Schools. Upon reviewing the report, he found that Harper College already has adopted most of the recommended Best Practices. He suggested that the Board review and possibly incorporate a formal Board policy regarding the practices Harper already follows – executive summaries of the budget, three- to five-year projections, annual review of long-term financial plans, capital improvement plans, etc. Member Kelley asked if he and Member Graft could spearhead reviewing the report with Vice President Judy Thorson and Dr. Breuder to determine whether they could adopt some items as policy by the Board. Chair Stone stated that, if the Board agrees, a good first step would be to schedule a meeting with Dr. Breuder and Vice President Thorson to review this and make sure they are not duplicating efforts. She reiterated that much of what was in the report is already practiced at Harper.
Member Hoffman thanked Dr. Breuder and others involved with organizing the commencement exercise off campus. It was a great venue, and it was fitting for the graduates. They were all very proud. Chair Stone thanked Vice President Joan Kindle.

ADJOURNMENT

Member Kelley moved, Member Botterman seconded, that the meeting be adjourned.

In a voice vote, the motion carried at 8:30 p.m.
