PRESENTATION

Ender welcomed Dr. Mark Mrozinski and Professor Colleen Burns from the Strategic Planning and Accountability Committee to present the Mission Statement and review the process that created this new statement, which will guide Harper in its Strategic Planning Conference and plan development.

Mission Statement Revision

Dr. Mrozinski gave a brief background on the purpose and intent of mission statements and reviewed Harper's current mission statement. This statement has essentially remained the same for about 40 years, having last been revised 13 years ago, and is very detailed and specific. Other factors spurring review include the upcoming strategic planning process, the Higher Learning Commission requiring that mission statements be regularly updated, Harper re-entering its re-accreditation process, and the substantial changes in Harper’s district demographics in the last ten years, for which AACC recommends a mission statement review to ensure it is current with the needs of the community.

Burns presented the process used to review the mission statement. The process began with establishing the criteria for what makes good mission statements as established by feedback from Harper, which resulted in five criteria: the statement is concise and succinct, clearly articulates the functions performed by the College, captures how Harper is distinctive, assists in evaluation of goals and strategies, and reflects Harper’s constituents. Theme development included feedback from internal and external stakeholders, including an online survey of students. This resulted in the following top four themes: teaching/learning/student success, access/affordability, diversity, and community engagement. The committee then went through a process to create a draft statement, which was again vetted internally and externally. The results of this survey showed 79.4 percent of people agreed or strongly agreed with the draft mission statement. The statement was then sent to the shared governance Institutional Resources Policy Council, which vetted the final statement, voted to accept the statement, and forwarded it to the President’s Office. This has been an exhaustive and comprehensive process, which has resulted in tonight’s recommendation to the Board.

Harper College enriches its diverse communities by providing quality, affordable, and accessible education. Harper College, in collaboration with its partners, inspires the transformation of individual lives, the workforce, and society.”

Chair Hill thanked the committee on behalf of the Board, for their thoroughness and inclusiveness in this process.

STUDENT TRUSTEE REPORT

Student Member Andreuccetti added her praise to the Mission Statement that is to be voted on tonight. She recalled the Strategic Planning and Accountability Committee coming to student government for input last year, which the students appreciated. She attended the ACCT National Legislative Summit in Washington, D.C. and it was an experience of a lifetime. She is thankful to be in a position serving as Harper’s Student Trustee. With Bill Kelley and Phil Burdick, she ventured through the Capitol, meeting with Harper district Senators and US Representatives. She was able to advocate for year-round Pell grants at one of the general sessions, where she noticed that education was not among the programs the federal government prioritized. When the floor opened up for questions, she took the opportunity to state her opinion. “Education institutions provide knowledge which ultimately opens the door to an infinite amount of opportunities for those students who learn to apply their skills in the workforces. Being involved in a community means collaborating ideas and helping each other. On a large scale, this country is one big giant community. This country needs to restore that knowledge is power. I understand that budgeting money is very important and everyone should budget their money. But why is Congress hesitant to offer a free community college education? My big question is: Is Congress afraid to accept the power of enlightenment? Does the offer of providing a free college education generate a negative intimidation factor?”

It was with great honor she shared her personal story with the US Representatives and Senators. Here is her story. “I am the youngest of three and will be the first in my family to receive a college education. I was raised by a single parent who was not accustomed to the American culture, for my mother was born and raised in Italy. I am a student who uses track and cross country as an incentive to mentally discipline myself and my actions for a better future. I realize that some students who come from similar situations as I do, do not have as much optimism as I do. It is important for me to speak up for them and I hope that one day I can inspire those students to break out of their shell and become the best they possibly can be. Our country needs more education. Every day we are learning and we will continue to learn until the end of time.” Thank you.

Chair Hill thanked Marisa for her eloquent statements and for representing Harper so well.

FACULTY SENATE

PRESIDENT’S REPORT

There was no Faculty Senate President’s Report.

PRESIDENT’S REPORT

Dr. Ender began his report by introducing Dr. Kenya Ayers and Rebecca Walker who will provide an update on the Hanover Park Education and Work Center, and noted he has heard nothing but good things about the progress being made.

Education and Work

Dr. Ayers recalled how the idea for the Hanover Park Education Center at Hanover Park began with a conversation between the Hanover Park Mayor Rodney Craig (an alumnus of Harper College), Harper College President Dr. Ken Ender, and Elgin Community College President Dr. David Sam. Through the tenacious efforts of Phil Burdick and the steadfast support of State Representative Fred Crespo, this center is a functioning part of these communities. Its work involves the efforts of Illinois workNet and the Chicago Cook Workforce Partnership. Through her work with Elgin Community College Adult Education Dean Peggy Heinrich, they have brought the vision of these great leaders to light. There have been many people, academic leaders at both institutions, as well as faculty and staff who have worked behind the scenes to ensure that we could help the dreams of members of this community to come true. The most important hire that we made along the way was that of Senior Director Rebecca Walker. Rebecca holds a Masters degree in Intercultural Studies and TESOL (Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages) and she also holds a Bachelors degree in Art. She has served as director of adult education programs at the YWCA in Elgin for several years, as well as adult education programs at Elgin. She has run an adult education program at School District U-46, as well. Rebecca has served on the ICCB Adult Education and Family Literacy Advisory Council and chaired the Data and Accountability Committee. She has experience teaching ESL abroad in Southeast Asia and at several local community colleges. At the Education and Work Center, she has dealt with unanticipated facility issues and personnel issues with grace, courage and great strength.

Walker shared the Hanover Park Education and Work Center’s proposed mission and vision, developed by the Advisory Board. The Advisory Board is composed of two designees from Elgin Community College, two designees from Harper College, and one from the Chicago Cook Workforce Partnership. The two designees from each college include a fiscal representative as well as an administrator from the adult education division. The charge of the advisory board is to hold quarterly meetings for decision making regarding the site’s operations, finances and offerings. The mission was part of that and it will be finalized at the next advisory board meeting, and one of the next steps for that board is also the facility use process. They’ve had several requests for other community groups to use the facility so are working towards finalizing those policies. All areas of the facility are fully functioning and fully staffed. There are five staff members at the Education and Work Center, two transition coordinators in addition to myself, Irene Burkholz-Benter and Norma Savoij, and two bi-lingual office assistants, Peter Gray and Oralia Braun. The external sign has been installed, which is drawing additional foot traffic.

The Education and Work Center provides adult basic skills instruction, job search, and career readiness assistance. The programming is responsive to the needs of the community. Harper College runs the morning courses and Elgin Community College runs the evening courses. In fall 2014, there were 6 morning courses offered with 109 students. For spring 2015, the morning courses were increased to 12 with 175 students, based on demand. This does not include the second eight-week spring term, which enrollment are open for now. Based on enrollment response, fall course planning shifted from a balance of low level and high level courses to more low level to meet the needs of those enrolling. Fall resulted in a wait list of 450 people, all of whom have been placed in courses for spring. A new wait list was started in January after spring classes began, and as of this week there are 184 people on the list. This Center offers only adult education courses, at no cost to the students, for adults who are 16 or older, who do not have secondary completion or its equivalency, and/or who lack basic English skills. The majority of students are taking English as a Second Language, also called non-native literacy. The second highest enrollment are ABE courses, Adult Basic Education, which is the lower level of GED preparation. There are 19 different countries currently represented in our student population including Brazil, Cameroon, China, Columbia, Cuba, Ecuador, El Salvador, Ghana, Guatemala, Honduras, India, Mexico, Nigeria, Peru, Poland, Puerto Rico, Syria, United States, and Venezuela.

On-site at the Education and Work Center is the workNet Center, they are a branch of the Arlington Heights office and have steadily increased their traffic as well. workNet Center offers basic resume help, working on the computers, registering for Illinois Job Link the website, and applying for jobs. Students can also meet with workNet career advisors and, if they qualify, receive WIA (Workforce Investment Act) intensive services. There was a large increase in workNet access in January, primarily because they started offering WIA orientations at this site.

Total walk-in traffic September through December 2014 was 1,209 people. Students who are enrolled receive an ID their first day of class. Average daily walk in traffic is about 16 people. Fifty-one percent of the people who walk through the doors indicate an interest in ESL, 14 percent indicate an interest in GED preparation, and 15 percent indicate interest in the WorkNet services.

In December 2014, the Education and Work Center received a Reflejos “Reflecting Excellence” award in the area of education. Representative Crespo was instrumental in securing a second DCEO grant, and that will assist with general operational costs for the next 18 month period. Nominated by the Chicago Cook Workforce Partnership, in January the Illinois Workforce Partnership awarded an Innovative Solutions Award to the whole collaborative of the Education and Work Center, including the Chicago Cook Workforce Partnership, the Village of Hanover Park, Harper College, and Elgin Community College. This successful first six months is attributable to excellent planning and a truly collaborative spirit between all the partners. She thanked the Board and College for their support. There were no questions.

Dr. Ender commented when the facility first opened that the best problem we could have is that it’s not going to be big enough, and based on current results he thinks this may be the case in the near future. He drew attention to the upcoming Strategic Planning Conference next week and the preparation materials all received and should be reviewing. He discussed the trip to Cuba he attended with five other community college presidents and the executive director of ICCB, in an effort to open education exchanges for students and educators. He shared the soft-opening of Starbucks in Building D and used that to compare the proposed tuition increase to what students are willing to spend on coffee. The average check has been $4.59, and the cheapest cup of specialty coffee is $3.95. It is true there are a lot of priorities in student budgets as they think about costs and expenses.

Board Committee and Liaison Reports
Foundation Report: Member Canning reported that the Educational Foundation has received $1,358,364 year to date. Interest earnings were slightly lower in comparison to last year. At six months, grants, planned giving, board giving, and alumni contributions have all exceeded the year-end fiscal budget amounts. The Foundation is happy to announce they are adding two new Board members, Monica Mueller from Motorola Solutions, and Joe Delaney who is an attorney from DKMNO in Arlington Heights. The Foundation will be holding its semi-annual orientation for new Board members on March 10 directly following the Quarterly Board Meeting. The 27th Annual Golf Outing will be June 8, and Robbins Schwartz is the event sponsor. Other ICCTA Liaison: Member Kelley congratulated Student Trustee Andreuccetti on her articulate and meaningful engagement with congressional leaders and their staffs. It was a very successful National Legislative Summit, with President Obama’s college tuition proposal being the focus of much conversation. At the moment, this is a discussion starter, and it is not something that is expected to have traction this spring. Major issues that were addressed by ACCT members with their congresspersons included restoration of year round Pell grants and reauthorization of the Higher Education Act. The Illinois Community College Trustees’ Association had its February meeting while in Washington, D.C., during which a baccalaureate committee was appointed to study that initiative which the Illinois Community College Presidents have recommended. The March ICCTA meeting will be in Naperville, with the morning seminar covering the pros and cons, and ins and outs of community colleges offering baccalaureate degrees, and he encouraged all to attend.
