To schedule an appointment to complete your application, and learn more about participating in this experience, please call (847) 925-6522 and ask for Janet or Colleen. For more information on Sociology 205, contact Professor James Gramlich at jgramlic@harpercollege.edu

Understand the impact of place by studying contemporary social problems in culturally vibrant London. After a spring semester of field work in Chicago, you’ll spend two weeks exploring the same broad set of issues in London. Emphasis will be placed on the impact of institutions, history, and other aspects of place as you consider the process of social change and its impact on people’s lives in these two great cities.